1. In every unit the first line is mark symbol and Gugq's Chinese Spelling. The corresponding of the Chinese character on the second line, in the square brackets is IPA (the International Phonetic Symbol).
2. In Gugq's Chinese Spelling, if a vowel of a Chinese syllable with -ng, omit the -ng for -g, such as ang→ag, eng→eg, ing→ig, ung→ug, yng→yg. Omit ieu→iu, uei→ui.
3. All initial consonants and vowels can form syllables independently. The syllable that initial consonant forms independently corresponds the pronunciation of Gugq's Chinese Spelling alphabet (sound in the list): The three initial consonants B, P, M, have already included O sound; initial consonant F has included U sound; D, T, N, L, G, K, H, have already included E sound; J, CH, SH, have already included I sound.
4. È sound uses substitution E^ while inputting. IE, YÈ are simplified as IE, YE.
5. The four letters Q, V, W, X are used as special-purpose tone marks, mark the four tones in order after a monosyllable, the soft tone is marked with (').
6. For the names of People, places, mountains and rivers and professional nouns out of Chinese, in principle, use the international common used Latin alphabet form, keep the original usage unchanged for the letters such as Q, V, W, X, etc..
